FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

George Stewart to Retire as Sales Manager for Canflexographics Ltd.

May 1, 2010 - Burlington, Ontario – It is with great respect and best wishes that the team at Canflexographics Ltd., announces the upcoming retirement of our friend and colleague, Mr. George Stewart.

With over 45 years experience in the converting and printing industries, it is now time for George to leave the day to day “sales cycle”, and enjoy some well deserved “off time”, with his wife Debbie, sons Scott, Steve, Andrew, and many family members and close friends.

George has been responsible for the consistent growth and sales success that Canflexographics has experienced within Ontario’s wide web marketplace throughout the past 12 years.

George’s career began in the extrusion department at E. S. & A. Robinson, and as he continued to enhance his career in the industry, held management positions at Lawson Mardon, Condor Lamination, and Lily Cups. All of these positions provided him with a unique, hands-on approach to sales and consulting, prior to joining the Canflexographics team in 1998.

George’s outgoing personality, reliability, and kind rapport with his clients, ensured that he stood out from the rest.

Mr. Stewart is truly a man full of surprises, whether it is showing up as Santa for a holiday party, providing an impromptu speech at a gathering, or singing Karaoke until the wee hours of the morning at conferences – George always keeps us smiling and on our toes.

Where might you find George... probably between his Muskoka retreat and the warm sandy beaches of Trinidad and Tobago!

Please join me, and the Canflexographics Team in wishing George Stewart enjoyment and good health in his retirement this spring.

All the best to our good friend George!
